Titel: Let's chat - story line - via Skype

Friends and lovers of the English language, as suggested during a chat in February we will try something new: I give you a story line and you prepare the words in English to tell us a story about it.

Today's story line is: you are in the Caribbean and have rented a boat to snorkel in the blue-green sea. You see an island in the distance, take the boat there and find a hidden bay with a shipwreck from the Spanish Armada.

a) what do you take with you to snorkel?

b) what do you find in and around the shipwreck?

Have fun with this, I am much looking forward to hearing your stories!
